LEADERSHIP REPORT

2023 was a year of growth and progression for The Ballarat Foundation.

Following the release of the Ballarat Vital Signs, a new in-depth print and online publication exploring more than 100 indicators of our community's social wellbeing, the Foundation took carriage of new initiatives and re-imagined existing programs to focus on positive impact delivery, in 2023.

Central to the long-term vision of the Foundation is the creation of the Ballarat Community Hub, a project which will both establish a sustainable revenue stream but also enable smaller not-for-profit organisations to collaborate in an affordable and modern manner. Demolition work on the facility began in late 2023, with the expectation operations will begin in early 2025.

Continuing the legacy of the Ballarat Winter and Christmas Appeals passed from radio station 3BA 102.3FM to the Ballarat Foundation in 2022. More than $140,000 was distributed across the appeals in 2023 in financial support, with tens of thousands of dollars in food and household items distributed to Ballarat families.

Distributions from the Foundation's sub funds in 2023 totalled almost $250,000, with program distributions in excess of $55,000 bringing total financial distributions to more than $303,000.

The great generosity of the Ballarat community saw $540,000 gifted through fundraising and sub fund donation activities. Without our donors, we cannot sustain our long-term positive impact.

In March 2023, the Ballarat Women's Fund was launched. The fund is a giving circle model, providing members with the opportunity to influence local responses to issues including gendered violence and inequality. Through memberships, donations and matched funding, more than $100,000 has been raised in the first year of operation – a reflection both of the importance of these issues and the willingness of the community to unite in response.

The new Women's Fund is indicative of the Foundation's forward thinking.

In October, the Foundation hosted the Ballarat Celebration of Giving Lunch, featuring Olympic Gold Medallist Cathy Freeman, speaking about her athletic career and how she gives back to community. The lunch provided a platform to launch the Ballarat Foundation's five year strategy – an ambitious plan to deliver $1 million in annual financial distributions to the Ballarat community by the end of 2028.

On the ground, the hundreds of program participants across the Foundation's own TAC L2P Learner Driver Program, Volunteering Ballarat, Dolly Parton's Imagination Library, and more than 20 community projects funded by the Foundation ensures that our work in responding to community needs seeps deep into the fabric of our community.

Our major events, Dancing with our Stars and Run for a Cause, triumphed in 2023, with a new course for Run For A Cause – and improved weather – leading to an uptick in event participation.

Like so many in our community and indeed the world, the Foundation faces the ongoing challenge of supporting the community and our operations as we face ongoing economic instability.

Our amazing operational team and board directors whose commitment, passion and skill serves to further our vision, mission and values are working each day to enable a Better Ballarat. Our heartfelt thanks to each of you.

Last but most importantly, thank you to each individual and organisation who donates or is a supporter of the Ballarat Foundation and the work we do – these relationships are even more vital during challenging times.

We look forward to continuing all of these great relationships into the future as we connect people, promote philanthropy in fresh and innovative ways and most importantly help build a community that is just, equitable and free of poverty.

TREASURER'S REPORT

Thanks to our generous community, partners, volunteers and the team at the Ballarat Foundation, 2023 has been a successful year allowing us to meet and exceed our vision and impact on Ballarat.

For the 2023 financial year, the Ballarat Foundation continued to make a positive and lasting difference to the people in the Ballarat region. As we strive to continue and increase the impact, it is vital that we focus on maintaining and growing the corpus – through donations, bequests and well managed investments.

The corpus is at the heart of the Ballarat Foundation and facilitates generous distributions each year. The majority of corpus funds are held for perpetuity and therefore the growth in corpus provides for long-term, meaningful impact for the Ballarat region.

The corpus continued to strengthen in 2023 with income totalling $512,424. Program income for the year totalled $1,493,467. The surplus for the Ballarat Foundation in 2023 is $311,284 exceeding budget expectations due to the continued growth of the Ballarat Foundation and critical management of expenses.

There was a decrease in grant distributions in comparison to 2022. A total of $303,755 was provided to recipients in 2023, including the distribution of books and back to school vouchers totalling just over $55,000.

At 2023 year-end $4,150,000 of assets is held in the Ballarat Foundation corpus (including property, cash and receivables). After a volatile period for investments, the year ended on a positive note with investment values on the increase once again, thanks to the stringent management of corpus funds by JB Were and the management team.

The programs of the Foundation including TAC L2P program and Volunteering Ballarat, along with events including Dancing with our Stars and Run for a Cause have continued to contribute to the success of the Ballarat Foundation in 2023.

GRANT STORIES

The Little Things Project

The Ballarat Foundation supported youth from Ballarat and surrounds for a weekend in September of inclusive, intercultural youth activities as part of The Little Things Project.

The project was designed to support wellbeing, social connection, and understanding of post-school pathways for youth aged 12- 25. Held in Ballarat as part of the Ballarat International Foto Biennale's open program, the weekend centered on the launch of an interactive photography exhibition on 'wellbeing', created by multicultural youth in the region.

At the launch, young people had the chance to connect with guest advocates and learn about local health services, including headspace. After the formalities, an intercultural evening, including team-building games and dinner, gave young people from the region the chance to connect in a safe and inclusive space.

Creating connections was central to the 2023 Little Things Project.

The Sebastopol Men's Shed supports daily activities to connect and engage community members.

Get Forked Garden to Kitchen Program – Sebastopol Men's Shed

Sebastopol Men's Shed received funding to upgrade and expand the vegetable garden patch that is used to supply vegetables to the kitchen cooking program.

The upgrade enabled men with mobility issues to access all areas of the garden. The improvement included raised garden beds and wider, levelled paths that can be accessed by wheelchairs or walkers in all weather. Additional garden beds also allows an increased supply of vegetables to the kitchen program.

The Shed has more than 60 members, with anywhere between 15 and 30 men attending daily. Many of those who attend will also enjoy lunch from the kitchen.

The program sees the full cycle from propagation to growing vegetables to food preparation and finally cooking and sharing a meal.

Big Brothers Big Sisters – Des and Casey

Des and Casey have forged a new friendship through Big Brothers Big Sisters Ballarat. They were matched midway through 2023 and have been great mates ever since.

Des is new to Ballarat and has enjoyed exploring the area with Casey by his side. Together they have been on adventures to the beach, bowling and picked up some bargains at a garage sale. They spend time together each Saturday and it is fast becoming the highlight of both their weeks.

Casey looks forward to spending time with Des every Saturday. Casey's mother says he lights up when he sees Des arrive to pick him up. He thinks of Des like a big brother and they have a relationship that is fun and trusting. Casey can confide in Des and speak up about his concerns.

The impact of Big Brothers Big Sisters on a young person's life can be profound. Through the meaningful relationships fostered between mentors and mentees, young individuals can gain a sense of belonging and certainty. The mentor can help the mentee navigate through challenging situations, make informed decisions, and build essential life skills.

BALLARAT WOMEN'S FUND

In response to the findings of the Vital Signs report, the Ballarat Foundation created the Ballarat Women's Fund to provide a vehicle for local responses to issues of gender inequality and violence against women.

Launched as a giving circle model on International Women's Day in March, members of the fund joined with the opportunity to influence the projects supported by the fund while also contributing to long term fund growth, designed to create a sustainable response to gender inequality.

The fund raised more than $100,000 in its first year of operation and the very first Pick Our Project evening was held in early 2024, with $25,000 distributed to projects proposed by local not for profits Raven Collective, Child and Family Services Ballarat (cafs) and WRISC.

Ella MacKay (cafs), Natalie Illingworth (Raven Collective) and Karryne Hearn (WRISC).

Construction work is underway at the Ballarat Foundation Giving Hub in Lydiard St.

A CENTRE OF CONNECTION

The Ballarat Community Hub is a visionary long-term project designed to drive positive community impact.

In April 2022, the state government announced it would provide more than $1 million in funding to support the redevelopment of the Ballarat Foundation premises in the heart of Lydiard St to enable the vision to become a reality.

Through the support of the government, philanthropic funders and community supporters, work began on redeveloping 7 Lydiard Street South in late 2023. Ballarat construction firm Plan Group has been appointed lead contractor for the redevelopment.

The Ballarat Community Hub will provide small not-for-profit organisations the opportunity to collaborate in modern and cost-effective environments in the heart of Ballarat while providing a sustainable revenue model for growth of the Ballarat Foundation's community grants program and program delivery.

The hub is expected to open in early 2025.

VITAL SIGNS

Data collected in 2023 from SEER Data and Analytics and our local project partners indicated that Ballarat is facing greater disparity between state and national statistics across areas such as long-term health of young people, family violence and cost of living. This data is central to the Ballarat Foundation's Vital Signs community portal.

Having these insights enables us to identify key actions to make positive community change. By understanding our community, we can develop actions through collaboration and connection to enable that vision Actions in 2023 included the creation of our Women's Fund. This fund has been established to address issues that women face such as domestic or family violence, safe and affordable rental housing for low-income earners and equal opportunities in the workforce.

In 2023, the Foundation conducted a cost of living survey. This survey was conducted across September and October and was designed to provide an insight into the impact of economic pressures on individuals and families in the Ballarat region. The Foundation is utilising information from this survey to understand areas of needs, and to help inform our decision making.

The Vital Signs community partners include: Community Bank Buninyong, Cafs (Child and Family Services Ballarat), Uniting Vic-Tas, CatholiCare and Are-able. To find out more visit: <https://www.ballaratfoundation.org.au/news/16/vital-signs>

TAC L2P PROGRAM

The TAC L2P program creates opportunities for young people to progress from their L plates to P plates, supported by volunteer mentors who help them achieve 120 hours of driving practice. Seventy young people in the Ballarat region successfully obtained their licence in 2023 through program participation.

L2P Case Study – Rod and Aditi

Aditi was studying Year 12 in Ballarat and living with her family who are from Nepal and have limited access to driving support.

Aditi's father is the only person in the family who has a full driver's licence and due to him working out of town, it was difficult to help Aditi on a regular basis.

When Aditi started in the L2P program, she was introduced to volunteer Rod.

After his retirement, Rod wanted to give back to community and lead a purposeful life which helps his recovery from cancer treatments.

Rod said it was tremendous to see the transformation of a young person from feeling quite nervous behind the wheel to become a comfortable and confident driver in few months' time.

Rod says safety is the key principle behind every driving session. "I don't encourage young people to rush and get into busy roads until both of us feel comfortable about it".

He added that it was very rewarding to see a young person coming out of the drive test with sparkle in their eyes and Ps in their hand.

Aditi gained her probationary manual driving licence just before Christmas and reflected her time with L2P and mentor Rod.

She said this is the best partnership she could ever ask for.

"Having Rod who is a local expert helped me learn a lot, not just manual driving but we talked about lot of things, he always encourages and stay calm when I make any mistake. The highlight is now I have a better understanding of Aussie accent and checked quite a few op shops around different towns while taking a break for driving every two hours of a long drive day."

Mentor Rod helped guide Aditi to achieve her licence.

Josephine gained confidence through mentorship with Jordan.

L2P Case Study - Jordan and Josephine

Jordan is working as a business analyst in Ballarat and recently moved to Newlyn.

She joined the L2P program as a volunteer mentor after she received support from her aunt with 120 hours of driving practice. Jordan wants to give back to someone in a similar need. Josephine, a year 12 student, was waiting for a volunteer mentor who could help her gain the required driving practice as she had limited access to a car.

The partnership worked well as they both had school or work commitments during the day but had spare time in the evenings to go driving. Having a L2P car located at Daylesford meant they could drive on a regular basis.

Slowly, Josephine started building her log hours, learning driving skills and gaining experience on different road conditions. These are vital skills for youth living in rural areas.

Josephine described the program as “incredible”.

“Without Jordan and the program I wouldn’t have gained my probationary licence this quickly. It is a fantastic feeling completing Year 12 with good ATAR and gaining my licence in the same year.”

Jordan said: “I was nervous when Josephine went for her driving test, but I didn’t show it to Josephine because I knew she would nail it.”

Josephine would like to get into wildlife Conservation or Marine Biology and would like to become an L2P mentor in the future.

Ange successfully achieved her licence in August.

2023 – “THE CHANGE MAKERS”

The Volunteer Coordinators Network, chaired by Ballarat Foundation, has continued to grow, and now has more than 50 members. These members reflect diverse backgrounds such as health, disability, emergency services, aged care, education, and council. The purpose of this group is to actively promote volunteering across the region through events, training, sharing information and industry updates.

The Ballarat Foundation also chairs three focus groups to look at breaking down barriers to inclusion in volunteering.

Newly arrived migrants – in collaboration with CFA, SES and BRMC we delivered a “tech ready” session for community leaders to increase awareness of apps available to use for various emergency prevention/planning/preparedness purposes as well for use during emergencies.

First nations - The Ballarat Foundation hosted a First Nations Cultural Awareness and Yarning Session, providing an opportunity for participants to learn, listen and engage in open dialogue. The workshop was held at BADAC with Wadawurrung Education Officer, Ash Skinner, providing insight into Indigenous perspectives.

Barkly Square was the venue for the 2023 Ballarat Volunteer Expo, hosted by the Foundation.

To assist the Volunteer Involving Organisations (VIOs) and to acknowledge National Volunteer Week, the Ballarat Foundation held a Volunteer Expo at Barkly Square in May.

More than 50 local organisations were represented with more than 500 visitors throughout the day including two buses from local schools. Feedback from organisations was positive with many reporting that they had volunteers sign up on the day.

Continuing with our National Volunteer Week celebrations, the Foundation hosted a morning tea at Sovereign Hill for volunteers to recognise the vital work that they do. This was attended by local MPs, councillors and volunteers and representatives from local VIOs.

BALLARAT READS

The Ballarat Reads program promotes literacy skills through its delivery of Dolly Parton’s Imagination Library books to children in the Ballarat area. By providing books to children from birth to 5 years of age, the program ensures that they have access to a variety of reading materials at an early age, which is crucial for their literacy development.

The program’s approach aligns with research that emphasizes the importance of reading to children in fostering literacy skills. By building a home library for these children, the program not only encourages regular reading but also creates a positive environment that supports their language and cognitive development.

In 2023, the Ballarat Foundation supported almost 400 children through the program.

from economically disadvantaged backgrounds. By providing $50 gift vouchers to schools, the program aims to alleviate financial burdens and ensure that children have access to essential items necessary for their education, such as school uniforms, clothing, shoes, bags, and stationery.

The collaboration between FRRR and the Ballarat Foundation since 2005 underscores the program’s sustainability and commitment to the local community. The distribution of 500 vouchers to families across 43 primary schools in the Ballarat region in 2023, along with 45 vouchers provided to Cafs (Child and Family Services Ballarat) through matched funding, highlights the program’s significant reach and impact.

CELEBRATION OF GIVING

The Ballarat Foundation's Celebration of Giving lunch event brought together community leaders, philanthropists, and supporters, featuring an engaging conversation between Australian Olympic Champion Cathy Freeman and local legend Steve Moneghetti.

The event also featured a panel moderated by Bruce Roberts where Cathy, John McLeod, and Sarah Hardy discussed the significance of philanthropy and community engagement.

The event marked the launch of Ballarat Foundation's strategic plan, underscoring our commitment to driving positive change and fostering a stronger, more interconnected community.

The charity event partner for this event was Cafs (Child and Family Services Ballarat).

CHRISTMAS JOY

In mid-2022, the Ballarat Foundation and radio station 3BA 102.3FM announced the stewardship of the Ballarat Christmas Appeal and Ballarat Winter Appeal would transfer to the Foundation.

The transition of the appeals will ensure the legacy built by 3BA over more than 40 years will live sustainably utilising the Foundation's DGR1 tax status and fundraising capabilities.

The appeals directly support the Ballarat agencies of the Salvation Army, Anglicare, Uniting and St Vincent de Paul with vouchers, food, toys and goods which are provided directly to community members most in need.

The community response was incredible. More than $144,000 was raised through corporate, individual and in kind donations, with tens of thousands in toys, food, clothing and other necessities also contributed by community members.

For those contributions, we say a heartfelt thank you.

SUPPORTERS

DONOR STORY

Tim Owen learned the spirit of giving from a range of sources, including the generosity of his grandpa, the workplace giving program at his first job at Australian Timken, and from leadership programs undertaken in the community.

He learned the positive impact one person can have on the community just by giving.

Following the tragic passing of his wife Janine in 2012, Tim established a sub-fund with the Ballarat Foundation in memory of Janine. For Tim it was about creating something genuinely positive in Janine's memory.

Tim's actions will have a profound effect on the community going forward.

Janine's fund has distributed more than $133,000 to support educational programs for youth from disadvantaged areas. Janine's fund continues to bring life-changing opportunities to many.

Janine Owen's legacy lives on through the Ballarat Foundation.
